The SGAE Foundation presents six television fiction projects at Conecta FICTION & ENTERTAINMENT 2024

June 20, 2024

The project directors will have the opportunity to present their projects in a pitch to audiovisual production companies and national and international networks. They will also compete for the RTVE Award for Best Pitch of the 2024 Edition, which ensures the promotion of the public channel for the production of the winning series.

The SGAE Foundation returns for the eighth consecutive year to Conecta FICTION & ENTERTAINMENT, the first international meeting dedicated exclusively to the co-production of fiction for television in Spain, to present the six fiction projects developed in its XI Television Series Creation Laboratory 2024.

The six proposals belong to genres ranging from thriller to historical drama, including comedy or horror: The Darkness by Roberto Márquez, La Reina Loca by Borja Echevarría, Las de Iker by Samu Fuentes, Makarras by David Caña, Mediadores by Vicenta Ndongo and Diego Sabanes and Soles Negros by Ignacio del Valle and Rai Garcia.

The Television Series Creation Laboratory is an initiative developed by the SGAE Foundation since 2013 that seeks to promote the writing of original texts, promote collaborative experiences and the exchange of ideas between contemporary creators, and provide them with support during the writing process..

In this edition, eight screenwriters have worked on their original projects since February, under the mentorship of director David Montoya, director of series such as El secreto de Puente Viejo or Physics or chemistry. During these months, they have developed their ideas, given shape and depth to the characters, thought about the space and written a first pilot episode. Now, with all the material reviewed, they are ready to go one step further and defend their projects in a professional forum with the aim of acquiring enough financing to see their text on the small screen.

The moment comes today, Thursday, June 20, at 1:30 p.m., at the Conecta FICTION & ENTERTAINMENT forum, held in Toledo. The scriptwriters will present their projects in a pitch to audiovisual production companies and national and international networks. In addition, they will compete, among others, for the RTVE Award for Best Pitch of the 2024 Edition, which ensures the promotion of the public channel for the production of the winning series, and which last year won De Buena Familia, a series project comedy written by Zebina Guerra and Jorge Yúdice, incubated in the last edition of the same Laboratory.

Cristina Pons and Maribel Vítar also won the same award for Madres en apuros (2017); Daniel Corps for Malaka (2018), a series already broadcast on RTVE; Carla Guimaraes and Pepe Macías for Why did the men disappear? (2019); and Rodrigo Martín Antoranz and Pedro García Ríos for Demokracia, finally exhibited as Internal Affairs (2020).

Apart from this activity, yesterday, Wednesday the 19th, as part of the preparation for their pitches, the author and the selected authors had the opportunity to attend the case study of Internal Affairs, one of the series that emerged from the VII Series Creation Laboratory of TV of the SGAE Foundation in 2020 that signed a production agreement with Mediastream and the public channel after appearing in this forum. The two creators, Pedro García Ríos and Rodrigo Martín, and Gustavo Ferrada, executive director of the fiction area of the production company Mediastream, participated in the private talk, in what was an exceptional opportunity for this year's workshop participants to learn about a success story, that they can take as an example for their own creations.
