Rafael Blanco 1 day ago The most outstanding

Conecta FICTION & ENTERTAINMENT concluded its eighth edition with more than a thousand professionals from 33 countries, with Brazil and Portugal standing out with the largest presence of producers from both countries seen in Europe.

The director of Conecta FICTION & ENTERTAINMENT, Géraldine Gonard, indicated that the event had the participation of 70 percent of professionals from Europe and 30 percent from Latin America.

Gonard added that the presence of European and American executives has been very balanced, with Brazil and Portugal, the two focus countries of this edition, being the nationalities with the greatest representation, followed by France, the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany, Chile, Argentina and Mexico.

More than 3,500 in-person meetings were held at the El Greco Conference Center and participants were offered a total of 24 panels, 11 keynotes, six pitching sessions open to the public, four private pitching sessions, and four Commissioners Pitching sessions, eight workshops and three after-work meetings. Of all of them, six have configured the special program dedicated to Brazil and Portugal as focus countries.
