Synopsis of 'Weiss & Morales'

Nina Weiss (Katia Fellin), a BKA agent, is visiting her mother of German nationality who lives in the Canary Islands. When a German citizen is found dead, Nina is involved in the investigation with Raúl Morales (Miguel Ángel Silvestre), a Civil Guard sergeant in charge of the case. Despite their opposite personalities and investigation methods, they must collaborate to solve the case.

Weiss is a meticulous observer, her strength lies in finding clues in sometimes unnoticed details. Morales, a connoisseur of the human soul, finds clues by analyzing the behavior of suspects. She appears independent and methodical, clashing with Raúl's more social and intuitive nature. He leads his team closely, a characteristic that challenges Nina's reserved nature.
